

Dear residents and families,

We are writing to inform you that a non-direct resident facing team member has tested positive for COVID-19. We can confirm that no residents or community clients have been affected or require any testing.

The team member did not attend the workplace while symptomatic and is fully vaccinated against COVID-19. When the team member became symptomatic they immediately isolated and undertook testing.

We have notified public health officials as required and are following the procedures recommended by the Department of Health and the Communicable Diseases Network of Australia along with advice from our infection control advisor.

At present, Lyndoch Living has no reasons to believe this case is not isolated or that there has been any transmission onsite. All team members considered a close contact are non-direct resident facing, fully vaccinated against COVID-19, have been contacted, and are isolating and undertaking testing.

Our visitor guidelines and screening process remain the same.

We want to make residents, their families, our dedicated team and our community aware of this situation, and we continue to follow the advice from the department and clinical experts.

We will keep you informed over the coming days.

May you and your family stay healthy and safe.

Kind regards,

Doreen Power
CEO
